An Outrage.

Nearly a month ago Supt. Leggett of the Standard Mining Co. of Bodie, sent word to this city that he was in want of twenty-five or thirty men to work on the construction of a pipe line and reservoir. The wages were to be $2.50 per day, one dollar per day being held out for board. Inquiry was made by telegram as to the board and lodgings and the length of the time the work would last. Leggett telegraphed that the board was good and new lodgings had been provided. The work was to last six weeks or two months. Upon these conditions twenty-two men left for Bridgeport, the nearest point to the work. They paid their fare $8.00 which was deducted from the first money earned.

The board and lodgings was found as represented, but the work did not last and the most work given any man was twelve days. The foreman discharged the entire force and left the men to get out of camp as best they could, with nearly three feet of snow on the ground.

After their board had been deducted, not a man had money enough to pay his stage fare home, and it was a case of walk. Men are now scattered all the way from Bridgeport here and several are now sick with pneumonia in consequence of the exposure. It was reported that James O'Hare was dangerously ill with pneumonia and Jack Lyod was found near the Mountain House nearly dead from the cold.

The least Mr. Leggett could have done would have been to see that the men he guaranteed work to should have means enough to see them home. Mr. Leggett will want men in the Spring to finish the work and it is hoped that the experience of these men will call for guarantees in black and white before a lick of work is done.

Alfalfa is King.

Alfalfa is king. Not when sold at $5 per ton, nor when fed to fatten mountain raised cattle at $2.75 per ton in the stack; but king it is when our farmers begin to engage in the industry of raising high grade steers. A one year old alfalfa raised steer will tip the scales at 1000 pounds, and will not be worth less than $25. Half an acre of alfalfa suffices to raise and keep in plump condition each animal, and if anybody can inform our farmers of anything that will net more than $50 an acre let him name it. Another item to be considered in connection with the beef growing proposition is the fact that the number who may engage in this business is unlimited. The demand for home grown and alfalfa raised beef cannot be met even at the extent of fifty per cent for years to come. A faifa men remember this.—Tempe News.

Bad News For Shippers.

San Francisco, December 28.—The brig Courtney Ford which arrived today reports that she passed Cape Flattery about dusk on the evening of December 7th. The missing steamer Keweenaw, bound for San Francisco, crossed her bow. The wind then was bad, as the big storm was brewing. The Courtney Ford noticed that the Keweenaw showed down quickly and headed to sea. Captain Miller's belief was then, and it has been greatly strengthened since his arrival in port, that some of the Keweenaw's machinery was broken down at that time. It was true it is thought that the Keweenaw went to the bottom two days later, as no disabled vessel could have lived during the storm.
